

IRMA (The Irish Recorded Music Association) is a non-profit making association set up by record companies and companies carrying on associated trades in the Republic of Ireland.

IRMA provides members with a means of discussing matters of common interest. RMA also provides a medium to represent the Irish record industry in negotiations with Government Departments and other interested parties. Generally, it operates to promote and protect the welfare and interests of the Irish record industry.

IRMA is involved in the following activities: -

- Lobbying at industry, political, civil service, Irish Government and EU levels to protect and enhance the interest of member companies
- Collecting and compiling national statistics to reflect the importance to Ireland of the music industry
- Fighting piracy in its every form in Ireland
- Managing the shareholding in the Irish chart company (ChartTrack) ensuring that the charts are a reasonable reflection of sales and that members are supplied with a copy of same every Friday
- Acting as the voice of the industry at all times
