Colin Crook - Music2deal is essential for networking within the worldwide industry, particularly throughout Europe. I have met a number of useful contacts visiting the site, which has led to some fruitful deals. An essential part of my weekly schedule.

Thomas Rodenbach - Thanks to Music2Deal I have signed my first recording contract. Due to the simple presentation of my song, I quickly made music industry contacts. My song “Won’t let you down” has been played on mainstream radio stations (in Germany) and hit the charts at no 86 in October 2013. I am deeply grateful for the professional music platform and can strongly recommend it to others.

David Pemberton, EMI music publishing - I was very surprised at just how clever the music2deal system operates. If the artists/writers/managers use the system properly, then it's a great way to pick up contacts from all sides of the music industry but particularly the professional players. I heard some brilliant talent and am hooked.
